Superimposing the Ba-gua on a Nation and a City

United States

We were first introduced to the concept that the map of the United States looks a bit like a pig while at a Boston workshop with His Holiness. If you squint a bit, you can see the pig below. The arrow points to the mouth of chi, which is New York.

FYI:

> As more and more people enter the United States via the cities on the West Coast, the Ba-gua may turn 180 degrees. It will be necessary to follow the chi.

California sits at the pig's rump. This is the meatiest and fattest portion of the pig, and represents a wealth of riches and abundance for those living in the state. In addition, California is located in Fame of the Ba-gua of the United States. Isn't it interesting that so many famous people live in this land of movies and digital technology. There is a wealth of both fame and material wealth throughout the state.

© Katherine Metz

San Francisco Bay Area

Years ago, the entry to the San Francisco Bay Area was the shipping lane into San Francisco Bay. You can see below that Berkeley and Oakland would then have been in Fame of the Bay Area. However, the mouth of chi to the area has changed with the influx of people into California and the Bay Area via the San Francisco airport. This has changed the orientation of the Ba-gua. Berkeley is now located between Fame and Partnership. Oakland is in the Children gua of the Bay Area.

San Francisco Airport

© Katherine Metz

Therefore, it seems only natural that Berkeley is famous for world-renowned scholars, both men and women. There are many Nobel Prize winners from Berkeley. Oakland, located in Children, will contribute to the success and improvement of generation after generation.

City of Berkeley

Below you can see the street map of Berkeley, California. The mouth of chi is University Avenue that runs directly into UC Berkeley. The campus is located partially in Wealth, but predominantly in Fame of Berkeley. It is no wonder that the university produces a great many scholars who enjoy both wealth and fame.

You can also see the arrows indicating both the Yun Lin Cultural Center and the Yun Lin Temple.

Yun Lin Cultural Center Yun Lin Temple

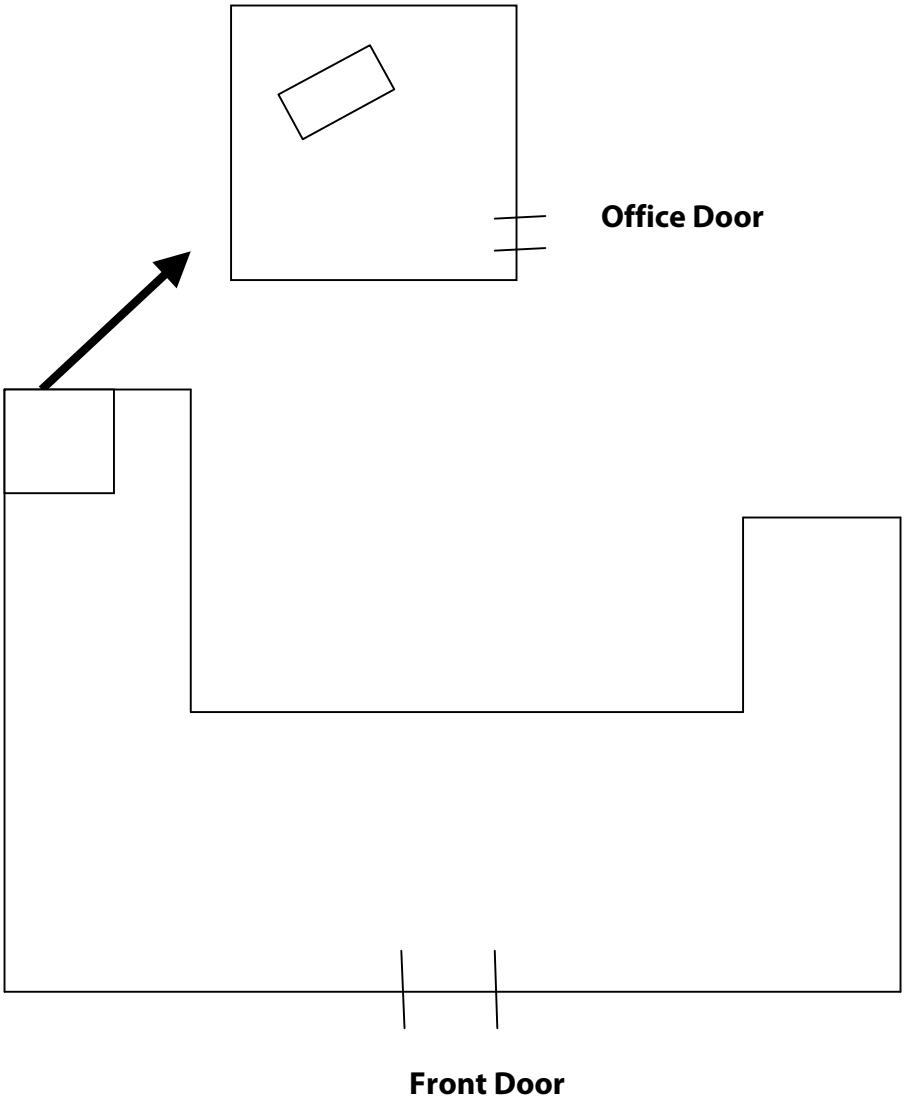
© Katherine Metz

Yun Lin Cultural Center

Below you can see the location of Professor's office in the Cultural Center in Berkeley. His office was in an extension to Wealth, and his desk was at an angle in Partnership of the office in Wealth.



© Katherine Metz

Yun Lin* Temple

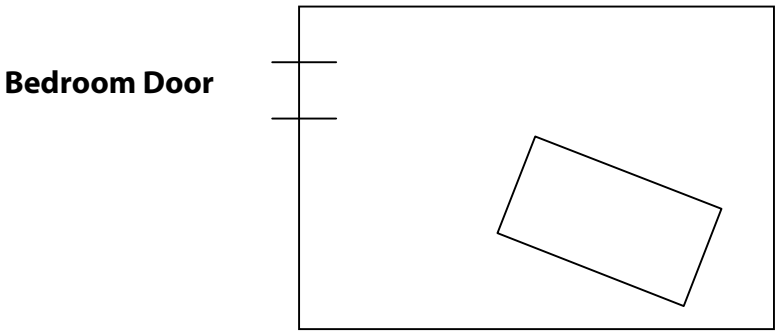
Below you can see the location of Professor's bedroom in the Temple in Berkeley. He was in Helpful People of the entire temple. Upstairs, he was in Wealth of the second-floor Ba-gua. Here is the secret within the secret:

> You can create a hexagram using the placement of Professor's bedroom. With Wealth (wind) above Helpful People (heaven), you have Hexagram # 9. I suggest that you read the commentary in your favorite I Ching. Here is an excerpt from one of my favorites, The Toltec I Ching:
>
> > "You are the descendant of a great spiritual lineage, putting its teachings into practice and carrying its vision forward for coming generations."
>
> Please read the I Ching. This hexagram speaks beautifully of Professor's spirit and work in the world—all connected to everything that has come before.

Professor's Bedroom

© Katherine Metz

Here you can see the placement of his bed inside his bedroom.



© Katherine Metz